Details of Existing System

Gujarat Modernization of Police Control Room – 34 individual Control Room, Gujarat, India.

Gujarat, a powerhouse of dynamism in India, has a state police that is taking a number of steps to be in tune with the times. New technology is being adopted in order to serve the mandate in the best way possible.

In the modern information society, knowledge is power, and crimes are no more committed only on the streets by weapon-wielding shady characters. As the nature of a society changes, the role and capabilities of its protectors must evolve in step, so that peace and tranquilly prevails, and development can be ensured. Keeping this in mind, Gujarat Police have embarked upon a comprehensive modernization plan that will help the police carry out their responsibilities to the best satisfaction of citizens. Modernization of the Police Control Room – the nerve centre of operations of a police force – is one of the important projects underway in the state. The project has several modules such as: Control Room Automation; adoption of Geographical Information System; Automatic Vehicle Locator; Computer Telephony Interface; CCTV monitoring of control room activities; Access Control System; further SMS Gateway Communicator and integration with the 108 Call Centre.

By the system, citizen would get Police help immediately as a result citizen will have trust on Police and hence will provide better help to distress caller.

❖ Installed the system at 34 Police Control Rooms (1 at State, 4 at Commissionerates & 29 Superintendent of Police Offices) located across the Gujarat State.

Existing architecture details

1. Computer Aided Dispatch – Using the CAD System, call taker can fill the incident as well as dispatcher can monitor and manage multiple incidents.
2. Geographic Information System- Place of incident as well as incident details can be mapped on GIS.
3. Automatic Vehicle Location System – The location of field units can be tracked in real-time enabling the dispatchers to dispatch the closest officer to the incident.
4. CCTV Monitoring – Four Infrared CCTV cameras are being installed at each CR to monitor activity of call taker, dispatcher & other operators.
5. Biometric Access Control System – To prevent unauthorized entry in control room, finger print based biometric access control system integrated with electromagnetic door locking system is being installed at each control room.
6. VHF Voice Logging – All the conversation on VHF frequency at dispatcher end are being logged and recorded.

Details of Existing System

1. Computer Aided Dispatch

Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) is a module for call taker and call dispatcher to create incident reports and fill related details as per conversation with distress caller. The CAD System provides real-time data acquisition and control through user-friendly graphics display with an easy to use operator interface system. The system consists of two sections: Call taker and Call dispatcher. Call taker collects information related to incident from the distress caller and creates an incident report, whereas the call dispatcher locates the nearest vehicle on the GIS map and communicates with PCR or patrolling vehicle and assigns police vehicle to the incident location. CAD provides help to the telecommunicated and dispatcher in recording activities, setting priorities, and identifying who is available to respond.

2. GIS for policing

The state police are implementing a Geographical Information System known as GEO911, which is a module that shows geographical details of city like highways, landmarks, streets, vital installations as per the layers and also provides real time movement of vehicles on map as well as incident details.

The GIS-based information may include agency defined layers that commonly include hospitals, roads, houses, airports, etc. GIS updates are handled via standard ESRI products. Geographic Information System is the hub for integrating caller location as well as incident location.

3. Automatic Vehicle Locator

The Automatic Vehicle Locator (AVL) module consists of automatic locator device installed in the police patrolling vehicle and software module which interacts with control room and device. The system is a combination of hardware, software and networking subsystems that tracks the location of vehicles within a network using a combination of GPS/GPRS. The real-time tracking, movement and location of the vehicle is projected onto a map and displayed onto a PC screen for monitoring. Each vehicle equipped with the GPRS /GPS (AVL system), will have its location and identity continuously transmitted.

4. Video Surveillance and Biometrics system for Control Room

All the activities in the control room are being monitored & recorded using IR CCTV cameras. Biometric fingerprint based access control system is being used to restrict unauthorized access to control room as well as to track attendance.

5. Mapping Wireless Conversation

All the wireless conversations are being recorded with date and time stamped so that proper records of each conversation is maintained.

6. Computer Telephony Interface

Integration with third party EPABX system to get call pop up using TAPI Interface, hence with the help of Computer Telephony Interface callers detail gets pop up on call taker's screen.

7. Further plans for Control Automation

Control Room automation software consist of Computer-aided Dispatch (CAD) system which provides leading edge technology to assist call takers, telecommunicators, dispatchers, and system administrators to receive and manage (Dial 100) calls and dispatch Police, Fire, EMS, and other types of agencies. The system designs take care of every feature with the goal of split second response, ease-of-use, data integrity, and data security. Dial 100 System an integrated system with Computer aided dispatch system for call taking and dispatch process, GEO 911 system for GIS map and AVL system for vehicle location along with other network and telecommunication modules. Dial 100 system is flexible in nature hence easy integration with other Public Safety Systems such as Mission Mode Crisis Management System, Record Management System, Court Management System, Fire Management System, CCTV Surveillance System with Analytics, HDIITS etc.

8. Future Integration with 108 Call Centre

The 108 Emergency Response service is presently providing services for emergency healthcare, fire and police. However, the service is presently not integrated with police systems and this at times leads to situations where police response times can be improved. Consequently, the state police would be implementing a Dial 100 system that would also be integrated with the 108 service.

There are many cases such as mob attack, bomb blast, riots etc., where police help would be needed along with emergency health services. In such a scenario, relevant information would be acquired from the distress caller and fed into the 108 system by the call operator. The same information would also be conveyed to the nearest Police Control Room.
