The Aadhaar program has already achieved several milestones and is by far the largest biometric based identification system in the world.

B. Aadhaar Authentication

Aadhaar Authentication means the process by which the Aadhaar number along with the demographic information or biometric information of an Aadhaar number holder is submitted to the Central Identities Data Repository (CIDR) for its verification and such repository verifies the correctness, or the lack thereof, based on the information available with it.

The purpose of Aadhaar Authentication is to provide a digital, online identity platform so that the identity of Aadhaar number holders can be validated instantly anytime, anywhere.

UIDAI offers Aadhaar-based authentication as a service that can be availed by requesting entities (government / public and private entities/agencies). This service from UIDAI can be utilized by the requesting entities to authenticate the identity of their customers / employees / other associates (based on the match of their personal identity information) before providing them access to their consumer services / subsidies/ benefits / business functions / premises.

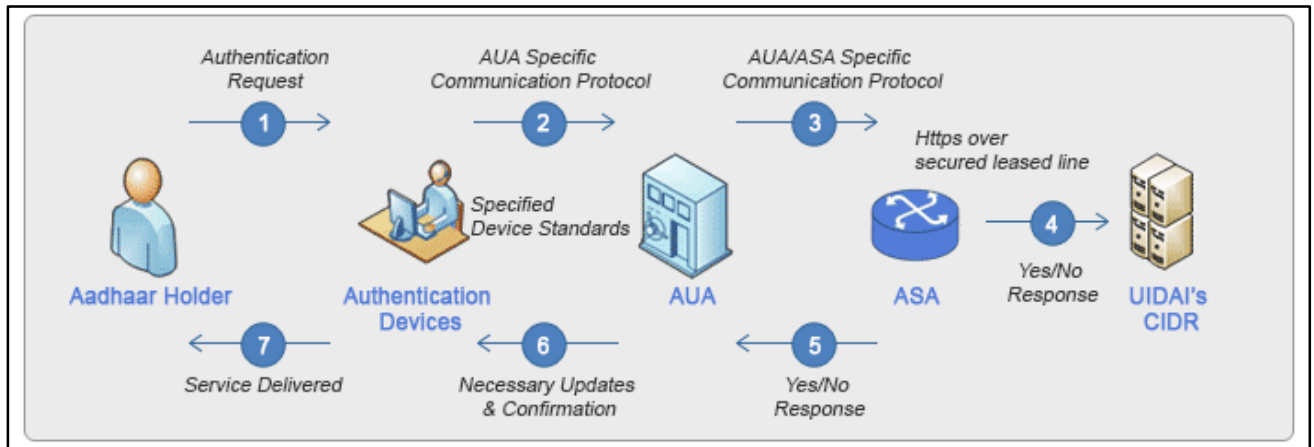

Modes of Authentication

The purpose of Authentication is to enable Aadhaar-holders to prove their identity without having to provide identity proof to avail the requisite benefits. Aadhaar Authentication is a convenient system wherein, Aadhaar number along with the Aadhaar holder's digital identity is submitted to UIDAI (Central Identities Data Repository-CIDR) for matching identity information available with it and provides the response as Yes/No only.

Authentication may be carried out through the following modes:

- Demographic Authentication:
- One-time Pin based Authentication (OTP):
- Biometric-based Authentication:
- Multi-factor Authentication: A combination of two or more of the above modes may be used for authentication.

This operating model outlines the actors involved in the Aadhaar Authentication ecosystem. The following figure identifies the key actors in the Aadhaar authentication model and depicts the data flow in which the key actors could engage with each other. The brief description of key actors and the scenarios in which they engage with each other are indicated in the figure below:

ASAs are agencies that offer their UIDAI-compliant connectivity as a service to requesting entities (such as AUAs/KUAs) and transmit their authentication requests to CIDR.

Authentication User Agency (AUA) is an entity engaged in providing Aadhaar Enabled Services to Aadhaar number Holder, using the authentication as facilitated by the Authentication Service Agency (ASA). An AUA may be government / public / private legal agency registered in India, that uses Aadhaar authentication services of UIDAI and sends authentication requests to enable its services / business functions.
