This requirement is highly restrictive for bidders who comply with all bid terms and conditions but do not have the specified experience. In addition, the department has asked for experience in supply of laptops through corrigendum. But as per GeM GTC, bidder/OEM experience is allowed either directly or through resellers in supply of same or similar category products. In this case, laptop experience cannot be considered equivalent, as laptops differ from tablets in terms of hardware and software. It is requested that the department may please revise this clause and allow bidder/OEM (themselves or through reseller(s)) to have experience in the supply of same or similar category products.	No change. As per corrigendum1.
3	OS Certification: GMS and AER certification	Kindly consider GMS and MDM Certification in addition to the mentioned certification, allowing MDM certification in place of AER. The current requirement restricting certification to GMS and AER only limits wider participation. Without inclusion of MDM certification, we and our OEM will not be able to participate in this tender.	No change. As per RFP.
